

ANOTHER BEGINNING

HOW MANY beginnings do we encounter? Generally we mark the large ones such as the day of our birth, the beginning seasons of celebration and almost always without question the new year. Our Georgian calendar marks 2012, parenthetically so does the Inca calendar that abruptly ends on December 21st. We have the Julian, Bahai, Lunar, Islamic, Hindu and Chinese calendars to mention a few, each sometimes with different beginnings or even counting. We have a new beginning each morning as we engage our day, when a new job is started or when traditional employment comes to an end, we have a beginning. And, cannot we also say that when we transition into non-physical that this also is a beginning?

2012 is upon us and this certainly is a beginning. It contains the very final confluence of numbers for a very long, long time that is marked as 12-12-12...the next cycle of similar numbers won't occur until early in the 23rd century as January 1, 3001 is acknowledged. See you then? How are beginnings celebrated? In a number of ways, of course. Fireworks, parties, speeches, resolutions and in some circles even the rending of garments.

This Unity message is predicated on the premise that its readers have an ever increasing awareness of their Spiritual base...their God-identity. With this conscious foundation how can we the better ride the wave of the new energy of 2012? We are not really into resolutions, but a suggestion or two might be entertained.

- Read an inspirational book once a month – our lending library is a good resource
- Practice a daily 10 to 15 minute time of quiet
- Start or enhance an “I am thankful for” list
- Purposefully review commonly used words and weed out words or phrases that don't leave you feeling good
- Accept greater responsibility for your life as it is an expression of consciousness
- Take more time to stop and smell the roses
- Practice at least one act of unrewarded kindness a day
- If clutter is a challenge, give at least one item a week a new home

And, the last one...

- Cut yourself at least as much slack (understanding-acceptance-forgiveness) as you grant to others for no one is more deserving than you

Thank you for being part of our Unity family. You are loved and accepted just as you are.

UNITY OF TUCSON'S ART GALLERY
WELCOMES

URSELA GURAU

"TUCSON, ARIZONA for me is heaven on earth. It is my source of joy, a playground for my artistic energy, where there is a constant flow of amazing, talented people in my life.

"I live on the West Side of Tucson in a three domed structure, connected by a pyramid, called Star Bear Domes

& Studio, my magic queendomes, co-authored a book with Tohmas and Marilyn Twintrees, called House As Teacher, Building the Future Now, about the building of this structure.

"I began to dabble in clay in the 80's and found myself in love – with the process, with the clay, with the creativity that is boundless in this medium, and with the fact that somehow, I 'knew' what to do.

"In the last three years, acrylic abstract painting has become more of an art form for me, after years of painting on furniture, shoes, purses and suitcases, and anything that didn't move.

"It's all been a huge miracle, a great ride – and has offered me a chance to create and to serve. Life is full of surprises!" —Ursela Gurau

CHILDREN'S CHURCH NEWS

Dear Parents and Grandparents,

Happy New Year!!! We hope to see your child or grandchild in 2012. The wonderful meta-physical view of life and spirituality is awaiting your beloved young person here at Unity. He or she will have fun and build relationships, practice meditation, and gain an increased awareness of his/her Christ Self and the importance of values in terms of character building.

You might want to take a look and see at our new Bulletin Board section in Harmony Hall. There you can view our past, current and upcoming lessons to stay abreast of what we are doing. You will find other information and articles of interest. Check it out.

Again, we encourage anyone who enjoys spending time helping children to become a part of our Children's Church team. An offering of just sixty minutes every month or two would be greatly appreciated. We gladly provide the support, materials and training. You may prefer to assist, rather than teach, and that is fine. We have equal opportunity for both men and women in our system. I'd like to thank Bettye Root for her great contribution as a member of our Children's Church team. Thank you, Bettye!

And, Jacquie Hardesty, our SW Regional Children's Church consultant, has recommended a newer curriculum, and we are moving upon this.

Love and Blessings,
Susan Cooper, Children's Church Director.
